As will be seen from the enclosed note the award was instituted in 1991 to accord recognition to high caliber scientific research undertaken by Indian scientists, living and working in India. There are several awards for the top scientists in the country which are generally awarded to senior scientists. However, the unique feature about this award which has received wide appreciation in the scientific community that, this is given to eminent Indian scientists below the age of 50 for their outstanding contributions to any branch of Science.

The G.D.Birla award for Scientific Research for the year 2023 has been given to Prof. Aditi Sen De, Physics Section, Harish – Chandra Research Institute, Prayagraj, for her outstanding contribution in the field of Physics. She has made significant contributions to the development of quantum technologies.

In the history of G. D. Birla Award for Scientific Research, she is the first woman Scientist who has received this award.

We shall be grateful if you would kindly give due publicity to this news in which is keenly awaited in the scientific and academic circles. This news has an all India importance since the nominations are made from all over the country and the Selection board includes top most scientists from different centers.

A note on G. D. Birla Award for Scientific Research and Prof. Aditi Sen De with her photograph are also enclosed for your information.

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

G. D. Birla Award for Scientific Research

The thirty third G. D. Birla Award for Scientific Research for the year 2023 has been given to Prof. Aditi Sen De, Physics Section, Harish-Chandra Research Institute, Prayagraj for her outstanding contributions in the field of Physics.

The G.D.Birla Award for Scientific Research was instituted in 1991 by the K.K.Birla Foundation with the objective of accord recognition to high calibre scientific research undertaken by Indian scientists living and working in India. There are several awards for the top scientists in the country. However the unique feature about this award is that this is given to eminent Indian scientists below the age of 50 for their original and outstanding contributions to any branch of Science or Technology.

The award carries a cash prize of Rs. 5.00 lakhs. The awards given so far are indicated in the attached list. The rigorous and in depth process of selection made by the Board year after year would be clear from the fact that three of the awardees viz. Dr. R.A.Mashelkar, Prof. Ashoke Sen and Dr. Goverdhan Mehta were much later elected as Fellows of the Royal Society, London. Others also have earned further laurels in their respective fields. This would, indicate the quality of selection made for this award.

The Selection for this Award is made by Board headed by the President of the Indian National Science Academy, New Delhi. Presently the President of INSA is Prof. Ashutosh Sharma. The Board includes some of the most eminent scientists of the country like Dr. Madhu Dikshit, JC Bose National Fellow and Distinguished Scientist Chair, CDRI Lucknow, Dr. Subrata Sinha, Prof. and Head, Dept. of Biochemistry, All India Institute of Medical Sciences, New Delhi, Prof. D. D. Sarma, Solid State and Structural Chemistry Unit (SSCU), Indian Institute of Science, Bangalore, Prof. Sanjay Mittal , Dept. of Aerospace engineering, Indian Institute of Technology, Kanpur and Dr. Suresh Rituparna, Director of the Foundation, New Delhi.

Prof. Aditi Sen De and her Research Work

Prof. Aditi Sen De was born on October 1, 1974 in Kolkata. She completed her PhD in Physics (Title of the thesis: Manipulations of quantum states and their nonclassical applications) under the supervision of Prof. Marek Zukowski at the Institute of Theoretical Physics and Astrophysics, University of Gdansk, Poland, after earning a BSc. In Mathematics (Hons.), Physics and Chemistry from Bethune College (the first women's college in Asia), and MSc. in Applied Mathematics University of Calcutta. Prof. De is currently Professor in quantum information and computation group at the Harish-Chandra Research Institute.

Prof. Aditi Sen De has made significant contributions to the development of quantum technologies, which can revolutionize the way we think about modern technologies. She has created various innovative concepts for quantum communication networks involving several nodes using quantum measurements or quantum gates. She has also developed ideas for quantum thermal machines such as quantum batteries and quantum refrigerators based on quantum many-body systems, thereby contributing to the development of thermodynamic principles in a quantum domain. Her research also includes the characterization of quantum resources in multipartite states required to build quantum devices, and the discovery of no-go theorems such as the no-masking theorem, which has applications in quantum cryptographic networks. This type of characterization is also necessary for understanding some fundamental quantum problems. She has published 197 research articles on quantum information science to date in this field.

She was the recipient of the Shanti Swarup Bhatnagar Prize for Science and Technology to physical sciences from the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research in 2018 and the Buti Foundation Award-2012 for excellence in Theoretical Physics, She is currently a fellow of the Indian National Science Academy and the Indian Academy of Science.

Dear Dr. Chidambaram Gunanathan,

Science & Engineering Research Board (SERB) has been established as a Statutory Body under the Department of Science & Technology (DST) to function as a premier agency to support research in frontier areas of Science and Engineering.

SERB has strong record of funding internationally competitive research, largely due to its robust peer-review structures, which are independent and merit-based. The Expert Committees (ECs) are at the core of our assessment mechanism, that engage leading researchers to steer the process for establishing the support worthiness of grant applications, from young scientists and early career researchers.

It is my privilege to invite you as the Co-opted Member of the Expert Committee – Chemical Sciences (Start-up Research Grant & National Post-Doctoral Fellowship and Early Career Research Award schemes). The full composition of the Committee and terms of reference may be seen vide notification attached herewith. I request you to accept this responsibility and serve the cause of Indian Science through your contributions, while working on this Committee.

My colleague, Dr. S.V. Prasanna, will shortly get in touch with you regarding working level details and related information.

E-journal of the Indian Sociological Society (ISS)

About the e-journal

Explorations is a double-blind peer reviewed open access journal. It is published twice a year: (April, August and December). Copyright is retained by the Indian Sociological Society, New Delhi, and the author on submission. All rights reserved. Except for citations in scholarly works, no part of the journal may be reproduced in any form without permission.

Vision

Sociology as a discipline, like other social sciences, is passing through a transition. The developments in the contemporary world have opened up new areas of enquiry expanding the traditional frontiers of the discipline. Many sociologists are engaged in these new and emerging areas of study which is often informed by a multidisciplinary approach. Sociologists in India are also in increasing numbers engaged in such research (in areas which includes environment, minority rights, gender studies, sexuality studies, etc. to name a few). However, they have an additional challenge posed by the need to integrate the enormous regional, social and cultural multiplicities of India into the Indian sociological canvas. These diversities, especially those of the socially marginal and geographically peripheral societies, have remained somewhat out of the radar of Indian sociology. However, emerging discourses on caste, tribe, ethnicity, religion, region, nation and nation building in contemporary India have created new consciousness and imperatives to integrate the marginal regions and societies into the broad canvas of India Sociology. The journal is sensitive to such discourses and aims to encourage scholarly publications on such identities and regions. While the central focus of the journal is the societies, histories and cultures of India, it also welcomes publications of comparative studies with other countries as well as on societies and cultures of South Asia.

Guidelines for Authors

The journal encourages data based (both primary and secondary) quality research publications using sociological concepts and theories. It is open to both quantitative and qualitative works. Besides regular research papers, the journal includes interviews, commentaries, debates, and discussions. While the journal encourages research publication of young scholars, it also welcomes contributions from senior scholars. The journal carries interviews/dialogues with eminent sociologists and social scientists who share their own experiences of teaching and research. The idea is to make the journal a platform for the overall professional development of the practitioners – research scholars, teachers and researchers – of sociology, especially those without adequate access to the resources required for the purpose.

The journal follows a rigorous peer review policy for all research and review articles submitted to the journal. Other contributions (commentaries, debates and interviews) will also undergo editorial vetting. Submissions to the journal must have sociological value and interest for social scientists across India and beyond, both from pure, scholarly research and applied dimensions.

Categories of contributions:

The journal welcomes submissions in the following categories:

- Articles (6000-8000 words)

We invite contributions in the form of feature articles from sociologists. The article can be both empirical and theoretical and deal with issues that will be of interest to sociologists practicing in a variety of locales – universities, research institutes, NGOS, etc.

All articles must be accompanied by an abstract of a maximum of 150 words with 4-5 keywords.

- Research in progress (3500-4000 words)

Under this section, we publish research work, field-notes and ethnographic accounts which are in progress. Themes are open-ended and therefore, we welcome all kinds of research in progress.

- Reflexive essays (2500-3000 words)

Under this category, we publish autobiographical and biographical notes of sociologists, experiments on teaching and pedagogy, etc.

- Conversations (8000-10000 words)

We publish interviews/conversations with eminent sociologists/social scientists focusing on their contributions to scholarship and teaching. The contributors have to submit the audio/video recording of the interviews along with the transcriptions.

- Commentaries (2000-2500 words)

Contributions in the form of commentaries on any topic of relevance to national as well as international community of sociologists are published under this section.

- Book Review (1000-1500 words)

Under this category, we welcome reviews of recently published books which are of sociological relevance.

- Discussion Forum (1200-2000 words)

This section publishes responses to the publications in the journal as well as other relevant issues of sociological interest.

- Letters to the Editor (maximum 200 words)

The journal provides space to its readers to express their opinions in the form of brief comments and insights as letters to the editor.

Guidelines for submission:

1. Structure

The manuscript should be structured as follows:

- Cover page, showing title of the paper, name of author, author's affiliation and institutional address with pin code, email id and a 100–150 word abstract. Authors' names and references should not be used in the text in order to keep authors' anonymity (e.g., 'as the author has written elsewhere' should be avoided). In case there are two or more authors, then corresponding author's name and address details must be clearly specified on the first page itself.

- The contributors should also provide 4–5 keywords for online searchability.
- Text should start on a new page, and must not contain the names of authors.
- References should come at the end of the manuscript.
- Tables and figures should be provided in editable format and should be referred to in the text by number separately (e.g., Table 1) not by placement (e.g., see Table below). They should each be submitted on a separate page following the article, numbered and arranged as per their references in the text. They will be inserted in the final text as indicated by the author. Source citations with tables and figures are required irrespective of whether or not they require permissions.
- Figures, including maps, graphs and drawings, should not be larger than page size. They should be numbered and arranged as per their references in the text. All photographs and scanned images should have a resolution of a minimum 300 dpi and 1500 pixels and their format should be TIFF or JPEG. Permission to reprint should be obtained for copyright protected photographs/images. Even for photographs/images available in the public domain, it should be clearly ascertained whether or not their reproduction requires permission for purposes of publishing (The Publisher is a profit-making endeavour). All photographs/scanned images should be provided separately in a folder along with the main article.
- Mathematical formulae, methodological details, etc. should be given separately as an appendix, unless their mention in the main body of the text becomes essential.

2. Language

- The language and spellings used should be British (U.K.), with 's' variant, e.g., globalisation instead of globalization, labour instead of labor. For non-English and uncommon words and phrases, use italics only for the first time. Meaning of non-English words should be given in parenthesis just after the word when it is used for the first time.
- Articles should use non-sexist and non-racist language.

- Spell out numbers from one to ninety nine, 100 and above to remain in figures. However, for exact measurement (e.g., China's GDP growth rate 9.8 per cent) use numbers. Very large round numbers, especially sums of money, may be expressed by a mixture of numerals and spelled-out numbers (India's population 1.2 billion). Follow thousand, million, billion number metric system instead of lakhs and crores.
- Single quotes should be used throughout. Double quote marks are to be used within single quotes. Spellings of words in quotations should not be changed. Quotations of words or more should be separated from the text.
- Notes should be numbered serially and presented at the end of the article. Notes must contain more than a mere reference.
- Use 'per cent' instead of % in the text. In tables, graphs etc, % can be used. Use '20th century', '1990s'.
- We do not encourage frequent use of capital letters. They should be used selectively and consistently. Only the first word of title and subtitle should start with capitals. Although proper names are capitalised, many words derived from or associated with proper names, as well as the names of significant offices are lowercased. While the names of ethnic, religious and national groups are capitalised (the Muslims, the Gorkhas, the Germans), designations based loosely on colour (black people) and terms denoting socio-economic classes or groups (the middle class, the dalits, the adivasis, the african-american) are lowercased. All caste, tribe and community names (the Santhals, the Jatavs) are to be capitalised but generic terms (the kayasthas) are to be lower cased. Civil, military, religious, and professional titles (the president) and institutions (the parliament, the united nations) are to be put in lower case, but names of organisations (the Labour Party, the Students Federation of India) are to be capitalised. The names of political tendencies (the marxists, the socialists) should remain in lower case.
- Abbreviations are spelled out at first occurrence. Very common ones (US, GDP, BBC) need not be spelled out. Other commonly used abbreviations (am, pm, cm, kg, ha) can be used in lower case, without spaces.

3. Citations and References

Guidelines specified in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (6th edition, 2009) must be followed.

- References: A consolidated listing of all books, articles, essays, theses and documents referred to (including any referred to in the tables, graphs and maps) should be provided at the end of the article.
- Arrangement of references: Reference list entries should be alphabetized by the last name of the first author of each work. In each reference, authors' names are inverted (last name first) for all authors (first, second or subsequent ones); give the last name and initials for all authors of a particular work unless the work has more than six authors. If the work has more than six authors, list the first six authors and then use et al. after the sixth author's name.
- Chronological listing: If more than one work by the same author(s) is cited, they should be listed in order by the year of publication, starting with the earliest.
- Sentence case: In references, sentence case (only the first word and any proper noun are capitalized – e.g., 'The software industry in India') is to be followed for the titles of papers, books, articles, etc.
- Title case: In references, Journal titles are put in title case (first letter of all words except articles and conjunctions are capitalized – e.g., Journal of Business Ethics).
- Italicize: Book and Journal titles are to be italicized.
- Citations and References should adhere to the guidelines below (based on the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 6th edition). Some examples are given below:

In-text citations:

- One work by one author: (Kessler, 2003, p. 50) or 'Kessler (2003) found that among the epidemiological samples.'
- One work by two authors: (Joreskog & Sorborn, 2007, pp. 50–66) or Joreskog and Sorborn (2007) found that..
- One work by three or more authors: (Basu, Banerji & Chatterjee, 2007) [first instance]; Basu et al. (2007) [Second instance onwards].
- Groups or organizations or universities: (University of Pittsburgh, 2007) or University of Pittsburgh (2007).
- Authors with same surname: Include the initials in all the in-text citations even if the year of publication differs, e.g., (I. Light, 2006; M.A. Light, 2008).

- Works with no identified author or anonymous author: Cite the first few words of the reference entry (title) and then the year, e.g., ('Study finds', 2007); (Anonymous, 1998).
- If abbreviations are provided, then the style to be followed is: (National Institute of Mental Health [NIMH], 2003) in the first citation and (NIMH, 2003) in subsequent citations.
- Two or more works by same author: (Gogel, 1990, 2006, in press)
- Two or more works with different authors: (Gogel, 1996; Miller, 1999)
- Secondary sources: Allport's diary (as cited in Nicholson, 2003).
- Films: (Name of the Director, Year of release)

URGENT PRESS MATTER

Dear Sir,

We are enclosing a press note in respect of the Thirty third G. D. Birla Award for Scientific Research for the year 2023 carrying award money of Rs. 5 lakhs. As will be seen from the enclosed note the award was instituted in 1991 to accord recognition to high caliber scientific research undertaken by Indian scientists, living and working in India. There are several awards for the top scientists in the country which are generally awarded to senior scientists. However, the unique feature about this award which has received wide appreciation in the scientific community that, this is given to eminent Indian scientists below the age of 50 for their outstanding contributions to any branch of Science.

The G.D.Birla award for Scientific Research for the year 2023 has been given to Prof. Aditi Sen De, Physics Section, Harish – Chandra Research Institute, Prayagraj, for her outstanding contribution in the field of Physics. She has made significant contributions to the development of quantum technologies.

In the history of G. D. Birla Award for Scientific Research, she is the first woman Scientist who has received this award.

We shall be grateful if you would kindly give due publicity to this news in which is keenly awaited in the scientific and academic circles. This news has an all India importance since the nominations are made from all over the country and the Selection board includes top most scientists from different centers.

A note on G. D. Birla Award for Scientific Research and Prof. Aditi Sen De with her photograph are also enclosed for your information.

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

(Suresh Rituparna)

G. D. Birla Award for Scientific Research

The thirty third G. D. Birla Award for Scientific Research for the year 2023 has been given to Prof. Aditi Sen De, Physics Section, Harish-Chandra Research Institute, Prayagraj for her outstanding contributions in the field of Physics.

The G.D.Birla Award for Scientific Research was instituted in 1991 by the K.K.Birla Foundation with the objective of accord recognition to high calibre scientific research undertaken by Indian scientists living and working in India. There are several awards for the top scientists in the country. However the unique feature about this award is that this is given to eminent Indian scientists below the age of 50 for their original and outstanding contributions to any branch of Science or Technology.

The award carries a cash prize of Rs. 5.00 lakhs. The awards given so far are indicated in the attached list. The rigorous and in depth process of selection made by the Board year after year would be clear from the fact that three of the awardees viz. Dr. R.A.Mashelkar, Prof. Ashoke Sen and Dr. Goverdhan Mehta were much later elected as Fellows of the Royal Society, London. Others also have earned further laurels in their respective fields. This would, indicate the quality of selection made for this award.

The Selection for this Award is made by Board headed by the President of the Indian National Science Academy, New Delhi. Presently the President of INSA is Prof. Ashutosh Sharma. The Board includes some of the most eminent scientists of the country like Dr. Madhu Dikshit, JC Bose National Fellow and Distinguished Scientist Chair, CDRI Lucknow, Dr. Subrata Sinha, Prof. and Head, Dept. of Biochemistry, All India Institute of Medical Sciences, New Delhi, Prof. D. D. Sarma, Solid State and Structural Chemistry Unit (SSCU), Indian Institute of Science, Bangalore, Prof. Sanjay Mittal , Dept. of Aerospace engineering, Indian Institute of Technology, Kanpur and Dr. Suresh Rituparna, Director of the Foundation, New Delhi.

Prof. Aditi Sen De was born on October 1, 1974 in Kolkata. She completed her PhD in Physics (Title of the thesis: Manipulations of quantum states and their nonclassical applications) under the supervision of Prof. Marek Zukowski at the Institute of Theoretical Physics and Astrophysics, University of Gdansk, Poland, after earning a BSc. In Mathematics (Hons.), Physics and Chemistry from Bethune College (the first women's college in Asia), and MSc. in Applied Mathematics University of Calcutta. Prof. De is currently Professor in quantum information and computation group at the Harish-Chandra Research Institute.

Prof. Aditi Sen De has made significant contributions to the development of quantum technologies, which can revolutionize the way we think about modern technologies. She has created various innovative concepts for quantum communication networks involving several nodes using quantum measurements or quantum gates. She has also developed ideas for quantum thermal machines such as quantum batteries and quantum refrigerators based on quantum many-body systems, thereby contributing to the development of thermodynamic principles in a quantum domain. Her research also includes the characterization of quantum resources in multipartite states required to build quantum devices, and the discovery of no-go theorems such as the no-masking theorem, which has applications in quantum cryptographic networks. This type of characterization is also necessary for understanding some fundamental quantum problems. She has published 197 research articles on quantum information science to date in this field.

She was the recipient of the Shanti Swarup Bhatnagar Prize for Science and Technology to physical sciences from the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research in 2018 and the Buti Foundation Award-2012 for excellence in Theoretical Physics, She is currently a fellow of the Indian National Science Academy and the Indian Academy of Science.
