To whomever it may concern

BARC notified "The code of ethics for scientific and technical publications" vide PD/CAO(P)/2018/200607 dt. 17th October 2018. A booklet containing the code is enclosed herewith and is also available on the BARC intranet (http://bts.barc.gov.in/IES/bethic/.)

The code of ethics document is a culmination of wide ranging discussions held by a committee constituted by Director, BARC for evolving the code. Before it was notified, the document was presented in a special session of the Trombay Scientific Committee of BARC. Minor amendments to the document were incorporated based on the views and suggestions expressed by the members of the committee. A standing committee to receive and dispose off the complaints had been setup.

Ever since it was introduced, a lecture on the code of ethics, by the undersigned as the member secretary of the committee responsible for drafting the code as well as the member secretary of the standing committee, has been part of the general orientation program organised before conclusion of the BARC training program.
